Explosion!

As we come to the close of yet another decade, we take some time to reflect on the events that have been unique to this era. Just as in any decade we have seen many accomplishments, failures, victories, and defeat. We witnessed an explosion of new awareness in that time. The bits and pieces left of this explosion remain to remind us of the history of the 1980's. We saw the advancement of computer technology, the tragic explosion of the space shuttle, nation-wide rallies to stop world hunger, and we continue to search for a cure for AIDS.

A Few Words From the

Message for the ZENITH Jacob C. Martinson, Jr. September 26, 1988

To me High Point College is special. Recently, I read about a survey taken by one of our finest universities. Members of the senior class of the undergraduate school were asked, "Are most of the faculty here strongly interested in the academic problems of undergraduates?" Only twenty-nine percent said yes. This is not the case at High Point College.

The student body of High Point College is special. There is that deeply rooted part in most of the students which is stubbornly committed to saying yes to hope, yes to striving, yes to life, and yes to the best. Also, there seems to be a civic sense of others which after all is the answer to self-absorption. This has been shown again and again as we unify our efforts and meet needs not only in the classroom, but in the community. Across the years we have had students work in nursing homes and hospitals. We have seen students participate in the Bloodmobile with the College being one of the best sources of blood plasma in the county. We have observed students working in the Special Olympics helping the handicapped. We have observed adulthood at its best in the spirit of mutuality as we have learned how best to enhance not only our own lives, but the lives of others. Yes, High Point College is special.

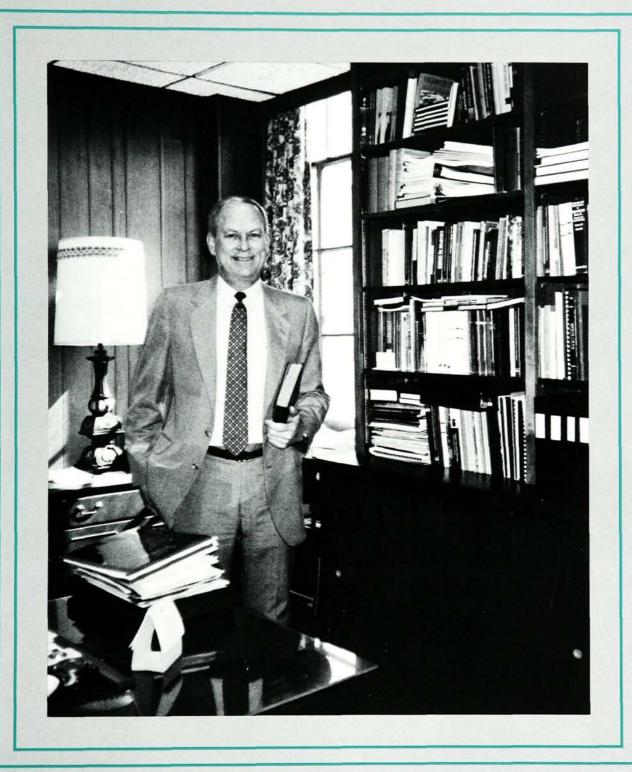

Best wishes to the Class of 1989.

Contactation! \..

Inaugurated as President of High Point College in 1985, Jacob C. Martinson, Jr. continued his career in administrative education. Before arriving at High Point. President Martinson had served as President of Brevard College for ten years, as well as President of Andrews College for five years. Prior to these fifteen years, President Martinson served as a minister for United Methodist Churches.

Graduating from the Harvard University Institute for Educational Management, and receiving a doctorate degree in Theology from the Vanderbilt University Divinity School are only two of President Martinson's many educational accomplishments. Service activities include acting as previous Chairman of the North Carolina Friends of Higher Education, and acting as a member of the President's selection committee for the Board of Governors Medical Scholarship Program for North Carolina medical schools.

Parent's Weekend '88

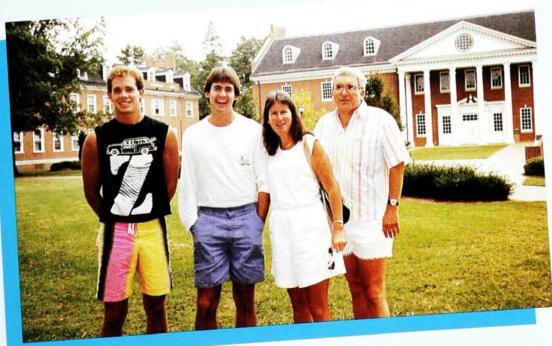

Warm embraces, familiar faces, cries of joy, and tears of happiness — It can only be summed up in one phrase . . . Parent's Weekend.

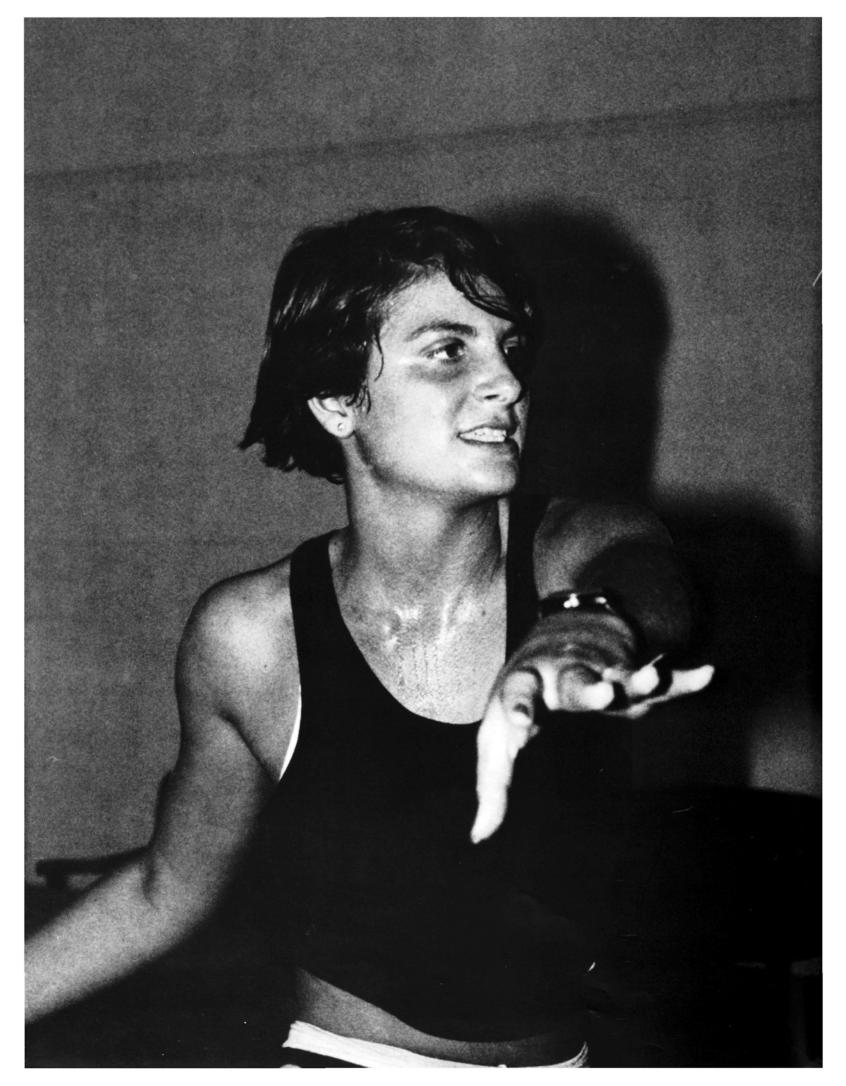

Whether a freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior, the parents welcome the opportunity to come and check out how their kids are adapting to the college life. It gives dad a chance to install that new stereo and mom a chance to set her mind at ease. It also provides an opportunity for the parents to meet the faculty.

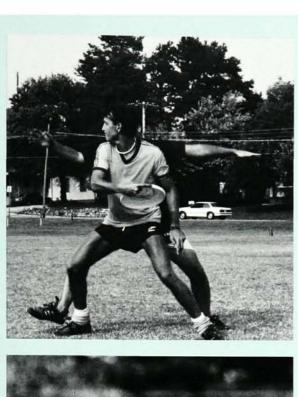

This year's Parent's Weekend was an overall success. Parents came from as far north as New York and way down south from Florida. There were even some parents from as far away as Puerto Rico. From the demonstration of the Learning Assistance Center to the presentation of Capus Waynick and his tale of being a KGB defector, it all added up to be one great weekend.

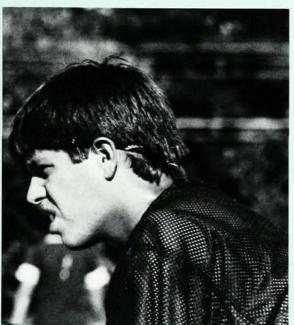

Physical Fitness: Join The Masses And Get Into Shape!

The biggest fad of the 1980's has been getting into shape. Being physically fit and toned is "in." We saw the uprising of many health clubs and aerobics centers. But it doesn't take a membership to be a part of it all. It just takes the motivation and patience to trim those few extra pounds where you don't want them.

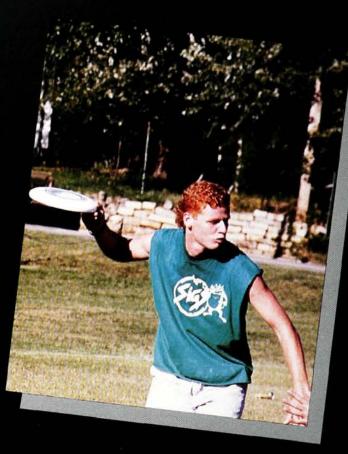

Popular options for getting in shape here at High College are aerobics, intramural sports, Nautilus, jogging, walking and bike riding. On any given sunny day, HPC students are seen out playing frisbee or all geared up in their sweats ready for a jog.

Contrary to the "Freshman fifteen" myth, more students are health conscious and choose to stay in shape. When you are physically fit you also feel better about yourself; which means better grades, right?

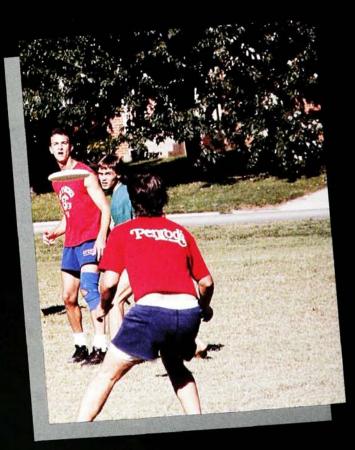

Intramurals Sports Boost HPC

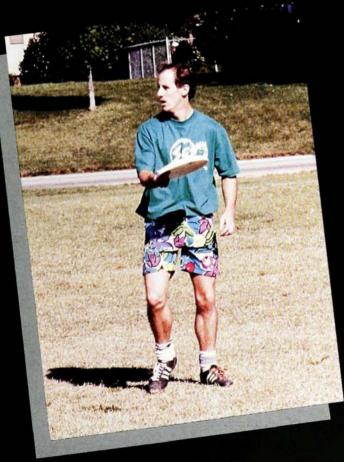

Is it thrill of winning or is it just getting out there to have a good time? Whatever the attraction, it is a big part of the extra-curricular activities at High Point. The Greeks supply their own teams and the independents put together a team as well. It is not an exclusive event, anyone can join in — guys, girls, Greeks, and Independents. There is something in it for everyone — that's what makes it so much fun.

Spirit

It is easy to see that these spectators are having a great time watching the game. They're just taking a few minutes out of their busy day to kick back and have a few laughs with some friends.

Intramurals extend throughout the entire school year. Each intramural season lasts about four to five weeks. These include: soccer, basketball, volleyball, bowling, tennis, softball, and everyone's favorite -Ultimate frisbee. Whether a spectator or a participant, there is something in it for everyone. By the way, the Sigs won this frisbee game against the Theta Chis, 16 to 7.

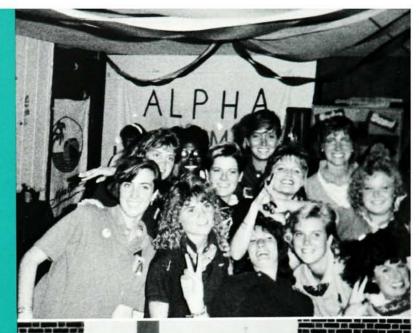

It's ALL GREEK TO Me!?"

What is a Greek and why is it such a big part of the social atmosphere at HPC?

A Greek is someone who has chosen a special circle of friends and is ready for a world of adventure. While a Greek life isn't for everyone, it is for over half of the High Point College campus. From dances to mixers to just plain fun, the Greeks are in the midst of excitement.

High Point has four social fraternities and four social sororities. The fraternities are Delta Sigma Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha and Theta Chi. The sororities are Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The Greeks aren't primarily concerned with having a good time. Each Greek organization supports a philanthropy such as A.R.C., Prevention of child abuse, or the American Cancer Society. Also, many Greeks are actively involved with campus and community organizations. There is a little bit of everything in the Greek life.

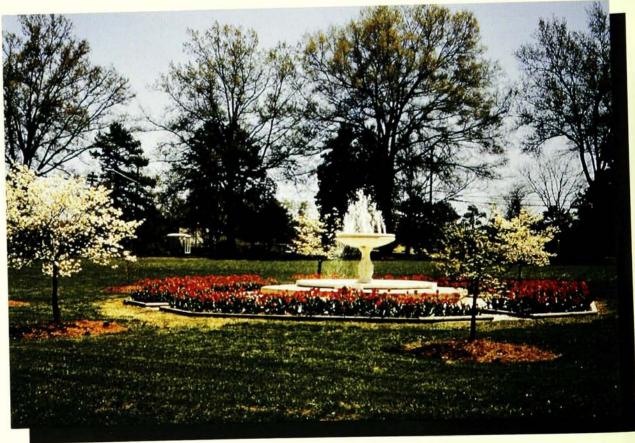

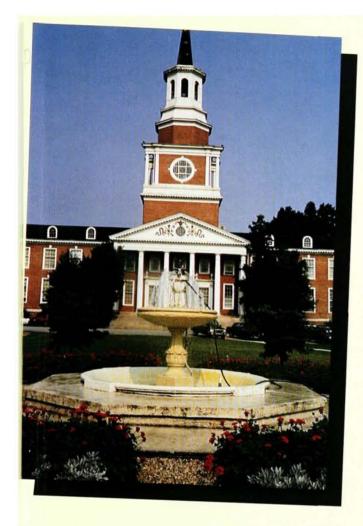

Springtime explodes into Full Bloom at HPC

As we pass from class to class we notice unfamiliar cars and faces. Local newspapers and radio announcers make admiring comments. Why the attention? It is because of our beautiful campus. The neatly trimmed hedges, the freshly cut grass, and the fragrant floral displays . . . that is the attraction. People come from far and wide to admire the beauty and the warmth that our school has to offer. It is a significant asset and it is one we take a lot of pride in.

The faculty and staff members are the backbone of the college. They are the ones who set the tradition and uphold the principles of the college. They are more than just faculty, they are High Point College. They were a part of the college long before our arrival and will continue to be a part for many years to follow.

D ay after day, year after year, generation after generation, a group of leaders whose names have come to be referred to collectively as the "faculty" have knowingly grinned at our sometimes outrageous ambitions and eagerly helped us to attain our goals. We have learned to watch them as closely as they watch us. They have taught us to learn from our mistakes and to grow richly in the knowledge we have gained through our experiences. Most importantly though, the faculty show us who we are. Only when we have become confident in ourselves can they begin to provide us with education we came to seek.

Organizations are the lifeline of the campus. Students can choose from many different types of organizations. High Point offers involvement in many areas such as publications, academic organizations, special interest groups, and Student Government. Part of a good solid education comes from being involved.

Thy do so many students get involved with campus activities? There must be something in it for them, otherwise they wouldn't keep going back. Maybe they stay involved because it helps them with their major. Or maybe they do it to meet other people with the same interests. They probably join, though, because they enjoy being involved. Organizations can help open the door for opportunities you might not otherwise have. Most of all, organizations offer a nice switch from studying.

Zenith

Christy Rockwell, Editor, shoots organization photos.

The Zenith staff puts together High Point College's yearbook. Doing this is not an easy task, but through the hard work and dedication of the small staff we manage to meet our deadlines. The Zenith staff meets a few times a week to work on layouts, copy, selling ads, etc.

While putting a yearbook together is not an easy job, it is a worthwhile experience. The knowledge and understanding that can be acquired through working with a publication will be helpful later, especially for those entering the field of journalism.

The Hi-Po is a student-produced publication. The newspaper staff works hard to meet rigid The Hi-Po deals with many campus and non-campus issues. It helps to inform the students of upcoming events on campus, reviews what is happening in various campus organizations, gives us an update on how our sports teams deadlines once a month. are doing and objectively gives us an overall view of what some of the opinions and thoughts are of the student body members.

Stephanie Mujat was the editor of the Hi-Po this year.

Tower Players

The Tower Players, led by Ron Law, is a group of students, theater majors and non-majors alike, who share an interest in the theater. Whether their talents lie in singing, acting, dancing or technical work, they work together to present three shows a year. In the fall, Tower Players presented the musical "Anything Goes," and in the spring they presented "Bus Stop" and "Harvey."

Robert Lumpkins, the new technical director of the theater department, helps to advise Tower Players.

Meet four familiar faces in the theater. Through their hard work and dedication to the theater they have eamed a place in Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary fratemity for those who have put many hours into the Theater Arts. Pictured above are Ron Law, Lynn Terry, Jr., Andy Brehm, and Brian

These activities include outside speakers, field trips to various industrial and national laboratories, and student socials. It is our goal to expose students to chemists in academic as well as industrial environments. Events unique to 1988-89 included a three day short course at the Oak Ridge National Laboratories, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, a field trip to the CIBA-GEIGY research laboratory, and a trip to the ACS regional meeting in Atlanta.

distribution of information.

This past year our chapter has toured a few companies, had several guest speakers, and had representation at the High Point senior chapter meetings held at Top of the Mart. We have met monthly in Cooke Hall. Along with the Career Development Center, we have sponsored a program about the banking industry.

Society for Collegiate Journalists

The Society for Collegiate Journalists is an honorary society for students preparing for careers in mass communication. SCJ is organized to teach the ethics of good communications and to encourage student participation in campus publications and the local media. SCJ also attempts to reward students for their efforts, services, and accomplishments by admission to its membership. Pledges must meet strict requirements for admission such as: a 2.5 GPA, literary contribution, and program involvement.

The Odyssey Club

The Odyssev Club began its third year of existence, and its strongest. The Odyssey Club is a part of the Honors Program at High Point College. The club has been small in numbers, but this year particularly, has been big on enthusiasm.

The members met once a month to discuss possible field trips, guest speakers, and for the first time, organized a College Bowl team that would participate with other college teams in the area.

It has been a trying road for this new organization on campus. but with the efforts of all its club members, the Odyssey Club will be an important part of the academic and community life at High Point College.

Radio Station — WWIH

Scott Lax speaks "on the air" at WWIH Radio Station.

WWIH is HPC's campus radio station. Students in the English Department's Radio Practicum course experience the process of managing, programming, and operating a broadcast facility. Students go on the air throughout the day, as well as producing pre-recorded promotional spots and public service announcements for use on the air.

But WWIH is more than just a classroom exercise. It is an actual working radio station broadcasting on 90.3 FM as licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. The overall format emphasizes new music — not Top Forty, but rather the music that will be on the charts six months to a year from now. College radio nationwide has become the breeding ground for the hits of tomorrow. WWIH also features a number of shows focusing on more specialized areas of musical style.

As sisters of Alpha Delta Theta, we strive for that which is honorable and beneficial to the college and surrounding community. We have a great time of fun and fellowship as we work together to help others. Working under the motto "Sisters in the Service of God," our philanthropy projects were at their highest. Charitable organizations included Mills Home, Wesleyan Arms, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, United Way, and the Boy Scouts. The bonds of sisterhood were not only strengthened through service projects but also through our annual fall retreat, parties, fundraisers, shopping and going out to eat.

There is nothing like a dance to get everyone's spirits soaring. The Yellow Rose Formal was a great evening as we celebrated our 35th anniversary. This year we have much to celebrate - new members, successful service projects and lasting friendships. As a sister, you are encouraged to be yourself and challenged to be the best you can be.

Greeks. Nearly 60 percent of the High Point College Campus is affiliated with one Greek organization or another. While Greek organizations don't appeal to everyone it does appeal to a very wide and diverse range of students. From the dances to the mixers to the philanthropies and school service the Greeks are always active.

Greeks

If igh Point College has eight social Greek organizations and two service Greeks. The social Greek system begins each year with a formal fall rush. This gives students who are interested in the Greek system a chance to become more familiar with each organization. After attending several ice breaker parties the students or "rushees" can choose to pledge to the fraternity or sorority of their choice. After the rushee receives a bid and accepts it they then become a pledge. After the pledge has proven himself or herself both academically and socially they then go through a period of initiation. At the end of the "inspiration week the pledge becomes a brother or sister of the Greek organization to which they pledged. The service Greeks hold their own special rushes at a different time.

Inter-Fraternity Council

nter-Fraternity Council, better known as IFC, is the governing body of the four national social fraternities which are Delta Sigma Phi, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Pi Kappa Alpha. IFC takes responsibility for advancing the interest of High Point College, Promoting the welfare of the Greek system as a whole, and to insure stable cooperation and relations with the faculty, administration, student body, and the public in general.

he Panhellenic Association is the governing body of the sororities on the High Point College Campus. It serves and is represented by each of the four sororities which are Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha. Panhell sponsors events such as Greek Week, the Hope Chest Party, and the formal RUSH. Starting in the spring of 1989, Formal RUSH will be held during the spring semester.

We support the American Cancer society and the Mills Home Orphanage. Through all of this our members have grown stronger in friendship and the desire to help others.

"We Are Family!"

Moms and kids before the Pledge Dance.

Alpha Gamma Delta

The Alpha Gams share something special and unique that sets us apart from the rest. "We are Family" exemplifies what Alpha Gamma Delta is all about. We expanded our "Family" by 29 new pledges bringing us to a total of 72. To help raise money for our philanthropy, The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, we sponsored a "Jail-a-thon" and for the guys a "Hot Legs" contest. The sorority emphasizes academics first and foremost, it also enhances engineered leadership skills while it participates in the social scene at High Point. Many of our sisters are busy with activities outside the sorority from SGS offices to play performances and some members have been nominated for honors such as Homecoming Court representatives, Homecoming Queen, "Who's Who", Alpha Chi and Order of Omega. But amidst all the activities and events we participate in, we always take time out to do things together as sisters, "A Family".

Z eta Tau Alpha started out the year with an early rush, which added 27 pledges to our fraternity. Being a part of ZTA extends to all aspects of campus life. We support many activities on campus such as SGA, Student Union, the Dance Team, HPC Singers, Tower Players, the Hi-Po, WWIH, the volleyball, field hockey, and basketball teams, the cheerleading squad and the Homecoming Court.

Service projects in which Zetas participated include a visit to Mills

Sports

If igh Point College has a very well-rounded athletic program which serves 10 intercollegiate sports as well as many intramural activities. We are affiliated with the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). High Point College recruits players from all over the country and have even attracted athletes from several foreign countries. The program is supported by the "Panther Club" or the directors and members of the High Point College Educational Foundation. Those members include many alumni and local businessmen that believe in the growth and development of the college. In short, the High Point College athletic program is competitive, respected, and well supported.

The 1988 soccer season ended at the District 26 semi-finals with a 13-4-2 record. This year's record was almost identical to the season before. With the loss of three of their starting players, the team did not appear to suffer. There were nine freshmen recruits added to the team this fall. The fresh talent and team unity were two major keys in the success of the season. Four team players were named All-Conference and All-District. They are Dexter Gilmore, Thomas Ingram, Yves Fischer, and Mark Hodor. Gilmore and Ingram were named All-American. Junior Mark Hodor broke the school record 16 goals in one season by scoring a seventeenth. With a relatively young team, the panthers have to build and improve on their skills for the seasons ahead.

Fourteen young women made up HPC's field hockey team this year. Working hard during the season, the team finished with eleven wins, eleven losses, and two ties. The head coach, Kitty Steele, and assistant coach, Leslie Clark, led the young and inexperienced team to a fair amount of victories. With only two graduating seniors, Elaine

Volleyball

After capturing the District 26 Championship, the Lady Panthers volleved their way to the National Tournament in Topeka, Kansas at Washburn University, Coach Joe Ellenburg calls it the "Cinderella Season". "Nobody expected us to be very good but by the end of the season we were the best!" Ellenburg reflected. Three players were named all district Seniors Penney Sellars and Susan Godoy and Junior Jimena Vargus. Sellars and Vargus were also nominated for All-American. Their key to success this season was experience and the solid leadership of first year Coach Joe Ellenburg.

Dr. Joe Ellenburg began his first year at HPC as the women's basketball and volleyball coach. Prior to coming to HPC he was the director of Athletics at the University of West Florida.

Men's Basketball

All-Conference Champions in the past two seasons, the Panthers went into the 1988-89 season with high hopes. Their goal this year is to capture the conference title for the third year in a row which is something that no other team, in the history of the conference, has accomplished. The team's key to success this season was their quickness and perception out on the court. "We try to get the ball away from the opponent before they reach mid-court," said assistant coach Mike Everett. "We also count on rebounds and strong defense to help our game." Junior George Byers, All-Tournament in 1988, was a key player in this past season. Seniors Willie Walker, Chris Windlan, Kenny Drummond, Tony Bolden, and David Stubblefield also made a strong team contribution. Freshmen Terrance Knuckles and Jay Witner came off the bench during the second half of the season to start in several games. The team as a whole was strong this year and it reflected in their fabulous season.

Students. Without students the faculty, the organizations, the Greeks, the sports, etc. would not be possible. The students are the ones that bring High Point College to life!

Students

We are only here for a short time but in our own ways we make a contribution to this school. It is the attempt of the school to leave us with a foundation for our future. If we leave this college without our impression then we have failed. The students are the ones that make things happen on the campus. Without our input and involvement the school would be lifeless, but it is through our efforts and hard work that we learn to live and make High Point College what it really is.

A Class Act:

Learning to Balance Classes, Friends, and Time Alone

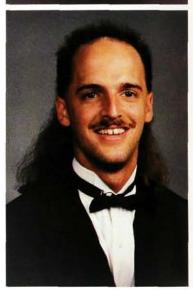

There aren't enough hours in a day for all the things we want to do, all the people we want to see and all the places we want to go. Part of a good college education is learning how to manage our time in a way that we can fit in most of the things we want to do.

The 1988 Homecoming Dance was held at Top of the Mart this year on November 5. The Student Union sponsored the dance and also provided music of "Chairman of the Board." In addition to the students currently at High Point College, there were many Alumni and faculty enjoying themselves out on the dance floor. It was truly a unique event as most of the students, faculty, and alumni come together for one night of excitement and entertainment.

Live Entertainment At HPC

Nothing to do? Are you longing for something different? Resident Life may have just the answer. High Point College brings in various acts from all over the country to provide entertainment for the student population here on campus. From the comedians to the magicians to the singers and speakers the college offers a wide variety of acts to give students a welcomed break from studying.

The events are very well publicized by the Student Union in conjunction with the office of Student Life. At least once a week you may consult one of the many promotions posted in the cafeteria, on the back of doors, in the library, etc. If you are too preoccupied to notice the posters, you can always count on being well informed from the flyers in your campus mail box. These events do not go unnoticed.

This year High Point College was very lucky to bring some big name acts to the campus. Those acts include The Romantics,
Chairman of the Board, Sid Bernstein — just to name a few. Next year HPC looks forward to more big name acts and lots of great live entertainment!

Above Right: Comedian Henry Cho, "The Tennessee Korean," had everyone in the Empty Space Theater doubled over with laughter. Cho has appeared on television shows such as "HBO's
Comic Relief" and "Showtime's
Funniest Person Competition."
Right: Acoustic guitarist Peppino
D'Agostino, of Messina, Italy, performed pieces from his recent
LP "Acoustic Spirit" in Hayworth
Chapel last fall. Peppino featured Italian pop and classical styles.

Singer and songwriter Gene Cotton performed on August 25 at Dalton Court (New Dorm patio). Cotton is best known for his pop hits "Before My Heart Finds Out" and "Let Your Love Flow* which were big on the charts ten years ago.

THE ROMANTICS

Sunday, November 20, 1988 Memorial Auditorium, 8:00 PM $5.00

The Romantics, originally from Detroit, Michigan, are best known for their Top 40 hits "What I Like About You" and "When You're Talking In Your Sleep."

Sid Bernstein is "The Man Who Brought Us The Beatles." In 1964, he brought over four young boys from Liverpool, England, who are better known as "The Beatles." A year later he booked them at Shea Stadium and from there they have made enormous music history!

Kappa Arlta gamma gamma gamma gamma chapter

The seasons have changed quickly. The time slipped through our hands before we could grasp it with a tighter fist. The past year is all a blur now for we have focused our visions on tomorrow. There is no time to go back — we are always moving forward.

Epiloque p

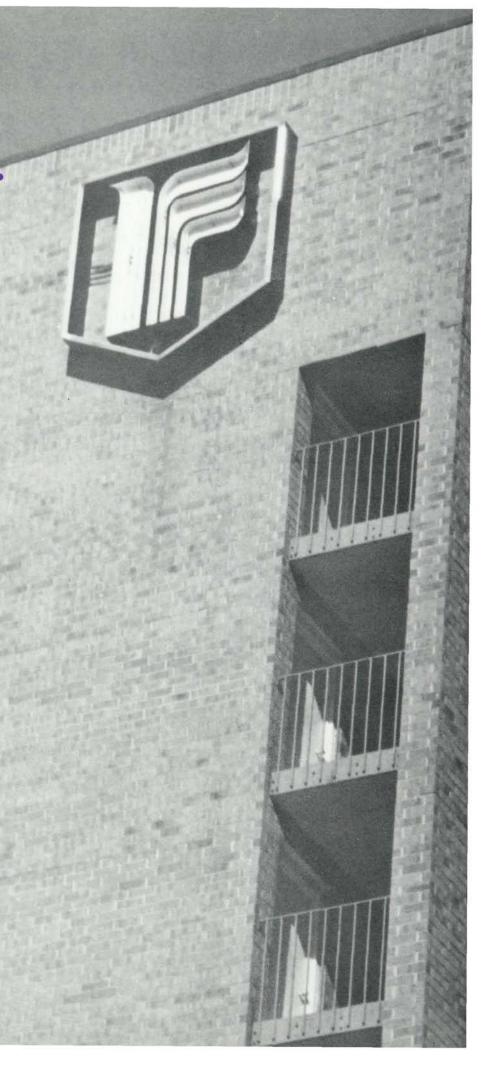

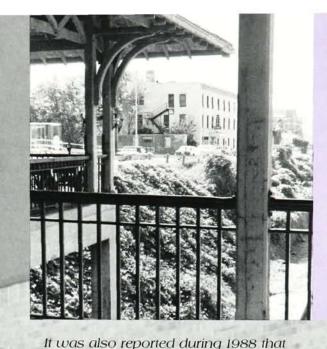

A s another year at High Point College abruptly comes to a close, let us take a few moments to remember some of the high-lights of this past year. Think back to the first day of classes — does it seem the same now as it did then? Most likely it doesn't. We have grown. We aren't the same people we were then. In this year we have explored new ideas, new goals, and new aspects of who we are. In ourselves, we have witnessed an Explosion!

High Point . . Our Community

Located in the middle of the eastern seaboard, about 90 miles west of the Blue Ridge Mountains and 200 miles east of North and South Carolina beaches lies the "Triad". Triad is simply a term used to describe three sister cities of Piedmont North Carolina: Greensboro, High Point and Winston-Salem.

Approximately seventeen miles from Greensboro and Winston-Salem lies High Point, the smallest of the sister cities with 37.8 square miles. Besides High Point College, this city is also the home of the Southern Furniture Market, held each April and October. During these "markets" as they are so often referred, approximately 30% of High Point College students are employed by area businesses including restaurants, hotels and local exhibitors. In 1988, over six million square feet of exhibition space, located in the High Point area, served as showrooms for over 1600 participating manufacturers.

125 manufacturing plants were located in High Point, including 15 of the largest factories in the world. In this year alone over 60% of the nation's entire furniture production was crafted production was crafted within a 200 mile radius of High Point.

Along with being known as the furniture capital of the world, High Point is also known as the hosiery capital of the world, serving in 1988 as home for fourteen major manufacturers. It was estimated that 80,000 dozen pairs of socks, hose and children's wear was produced everyday. Besides furniture and hosiery there are several other industrial giants located in High Point such as "apparels, chemicals, movie productions, school buses, studio photography, truck assembly and luxury yachts" proving that North Carolina and specifically High Point has and will continue to be dedicated to "continued economic growth through a diversified industrial base."

Variety of Industries emphasize Economic Health

S ome events that have affected us in the past year were the presidential campaign, the Olympics, Hurricane Gilbert, the PTL scandal, and the growing fear of AIDS.

The two presidential candidates for the '88 election were George Bush and Micheal Dukakis. The two were very opposite in their views, as was illustrated in the debate at Wake Forest University on September 25. Some issues that were addressed at the debate were abortion, capital punishment, and drug abuse.

The 24th Summer Olympiad was held in Seoul, South Korea. The U.S. did well in swimming, diving, track, and boxing. The U.S. finished with 94 medals. That put us third in line behind the Soviet Union, 132 medals, and East Germany, with 102 medals. It was the first time ever that the U.S. finished lower than second place.

Hurricane Gilbert was presumed to be the worst hurricane of this century. It took its biggest toll on Jamaica by almost leveling the entire island. It also did considerable damage to parts of southern Texas and the Gulf of Mexico.

T.V. Evangelists have been in the news. They have more or less given a bad name to religion.

The media caught up with all the scandal and corruption and the evangelists had a difficult time trying to cover their shady tracks. Many of them have left their "ministry" to reconcile the things they have done.

The AIDS scare continues to grow as more people are being victimized by it. It is being spread through blood transfusions, contaminated intravenous drug needles, and contaminated sexual partners. It can't be stopped but it can be prevented.

Fads and Fashions of the 1980's

In the eighties we saw the return of many fads from the sixties. We have seen people wearing everything from tie dyes to plaids. The classic high top converse also made a come back in every color imaginable. This generation took a little from all the past decades.

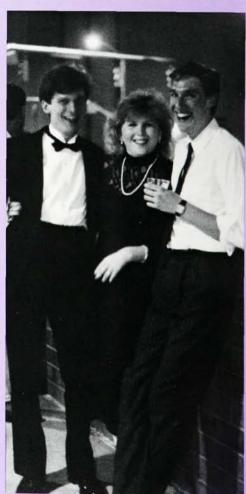

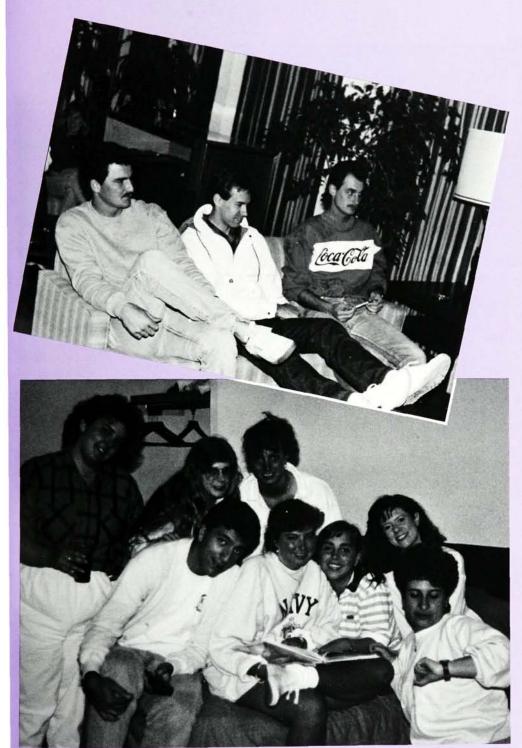

This decade has been coined the "Age of the Yuppie." The Yuppies have popularized expensive foreign cars, exotic vacations, creative "preppy" dressing, and have created a lust for success.

Jean jackets were another hot fashion item in this decade. People wore them for casual dressing or to advertise a collection of buttons. Also we saw the return of mini skirts. As the eighties progressed we saw the skirts getting shorter.

"Anything goes" was the word for fashion in this decade. Nothing was too radical or too flashy for this generation.

New Places, New Faces

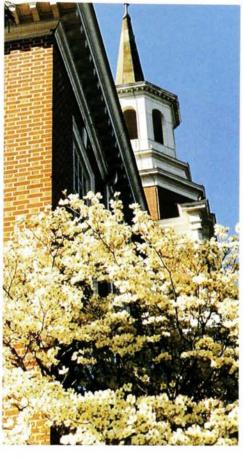

veryone remembers their first day of High Point. Long lines, new roommates, a completely different world, how would you ever survive the whole year? It was hard enough just getting through the first day. Just when you've lost all hope in surviving the separation from mom and dad, along comes a friendly HPC orientation leader. Remember them? They helped you carry your things to your room, they were your "Big Brothers" or "Big Sisters", and most importantly they were a familiar face in a sea of strangers. We have all come a long way from that first day and we have all survived the loneliness that comes with it.

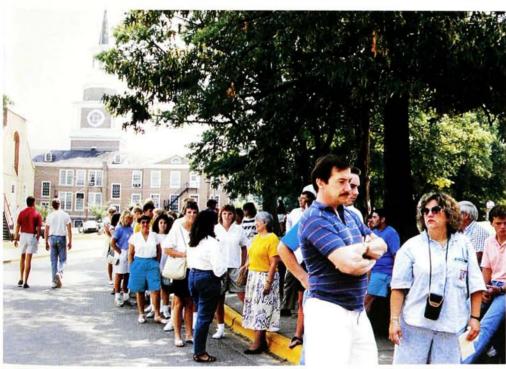

Fall Orientation '88

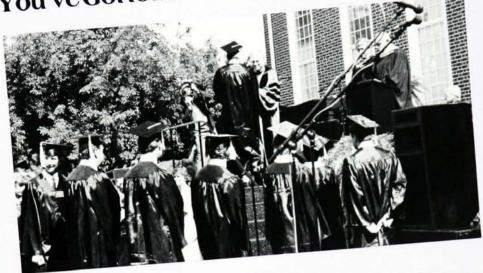

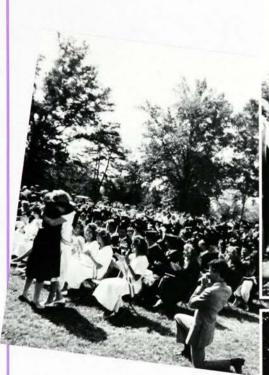

It's Not Enough to Dream Your Dreams. You've Got to Make Them Come True...

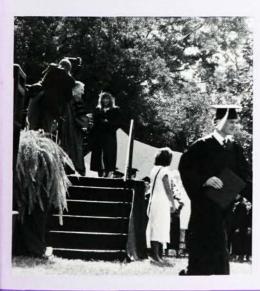

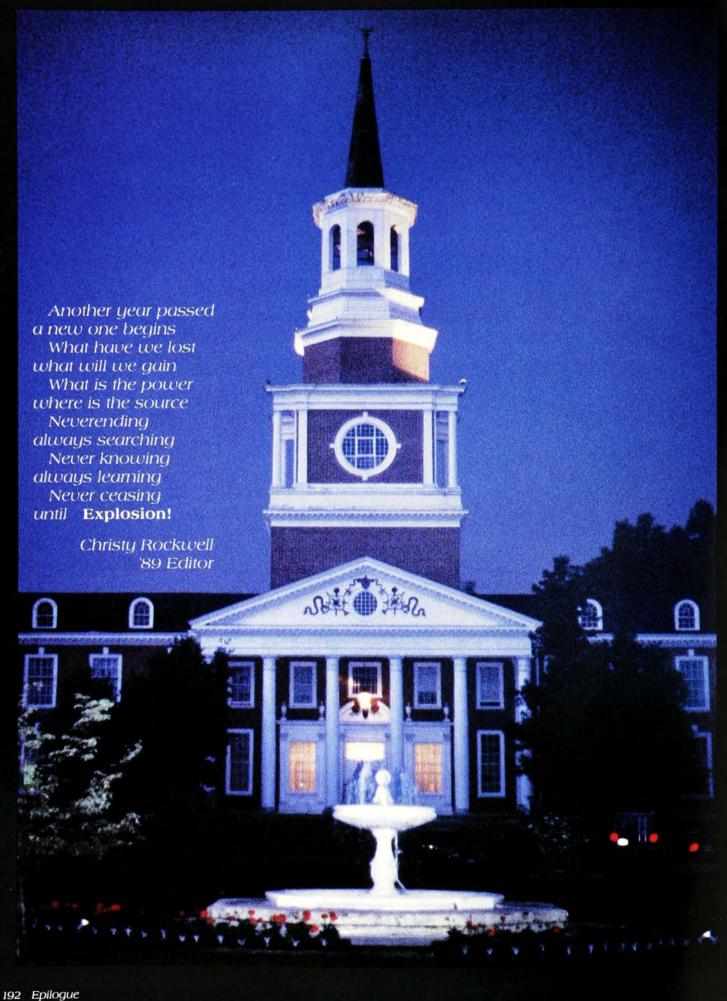

A black cap. A black gown. The big day has finally arrived, the day of Graduation! As the Seniors step onto the stage to receive their diplomas they take the final step away from the carefree days of youth and are suddenly cast into adulthood. Since their first day at HPC, they have been working hard at their dreams. As the president hands them their diplomas, they take pride in themselves for the hard work it took them to make the dream come true.
